Messrs. Reed, Wing & Cutter, Gentlemen,-I feel it a duty Messrs. Reed, Wing & Cutler, Gentlemen,—I feel it a duty I now the public, and especially to hundreds of my fellow beings who are now suffering under different diseases of the lungs, to give you a statement of the good effects I have experienced from the use of the Vegetable Phimonary Balsam. Having from my youth up been troubled with different complaints of the lungs, such as splitting of blood, a dry troublesome cough, frequently hourseness, with sever fits of coughing, and indeed all the symptoms of consumption, and from time to time I have consulted Winthrop.

Gm3

I received little or no relief, and at last they told me there was go help for me; that my case was beyond their medicines. In the spring of 1827 I was advised by a friend to try the Vegetable Pulminary Balsam. I obtained two bottles, and an trial I was surprised to find so sudden and effectual relief which it gave me, and after using it about five weeks all my complaints were enti rely removed, and I was restored to good health. Since that time I have kept it constantly by me, in case of appearance of any of the above complaints.

I have known a large number of cases where all other medicines have failed of affording any relief, the Balsam was at length resorted to, and speedily effected a care. I would therefore recommend to every person that has any of the above complaints, on their first appearance to take the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam, which they will find a safe, convenient and positive cure.

Dr. Richardson's Bitters,—In our columns may be found an advertisement of the Vegetable Bitters, prepared by Dr. S. O. Richardson, of South Reading, Mass. They are, as said to be, undoubtedly composed of a variety of valuable and purely vegetable matter, and from our own experience as well as others, welcan speak highly of their renovating and invigorating effects upon she system. We have a good opinion of the Bitters, as they are not a quack nostrum, but discovered, prepared and vended by a regular Physician, a graduate of the College of our own State, and who has said but little by way of puffing them himself, but leaves it to those who try them to jedge themselves. For the diseases that many are liable to in the spring and summer, such as Debility, Dyspepsia, Billious and Nervous complaints, &c. we do not hesitate to say that these Bitters will be found a safe, agreeable and effectual restorative. As good health is one of the greatest of earthly blessings, we would early advise those laboring under such diseases, to make trial of Dr. Richardson's Bitters; they can do no harm and may do much good, as we are confident in many cases they have. BY R. B. S. ANDROS. A swallow, in the Spring, Came to our granary, and neath the caves Essay'd to make a nest, and there did bring Wet earth and straw and leaves.

Day after day she toill'd, With patient art, but ere her work was crown'd, Some sad mishap the tiny fabric spoil'd, And dash'd it to the ground.

And with her mate fresh carth and grasses bro't, And built her nest.

But scarcely had she placed The last soft feather on its ample floor, When wicked hand, or chance, again laid waste, And wrought the rain o'er.

But still her heart she kept,
And toil'd again;—and last night, hearing calls,
I look'd, and lo! three little swallows slept Within the earth-made walls.

YOUR CHANGE, SIR.

One of those nondescript specimens of humanty called dandies, travelling through Connecticut a few days since in his own or a borrowed conveyance, was brought up with a 'round turn' at a toll gate which he designed to have passed without paying the usual fee. When he found himself in limbo, from which he could not escape, without 'forking over,' he inquired of a young lady who was not in attendance at the gate how much he had to pay before he could pass the formidable barrier.

'Three cents, sir, is the charge for single wagons," replied the young lady.

'Three cents is a threepence, the half of a sixpence; one of the smallest bits of silver in use, eh! young woman-am I right?' said the dandy, feeling in his pockets for his change.

Three cents, sir, if you please,' said the lady. 'In your office of highwayman, young woman, you will substract the amount of your demand from this piece, and return me the the balance as conveniently quick as your ordinary locomotion will allow,' said the dandy gentleman at the same time purposely dropping a shilling piece into the mud beneath his wagon. 'Ah! there, it is in the mud, I declare. I wouldn't dirty my ingers for twenty of them."

The young lady took the shilling from the mud, where he had dropped it, went into the house, and refurned with nine cents, which she. placed immediately under the wheel, where she had taken up the shilling.

'Hillo, hillo, young woman what is it you mean,' said the dandy. 'Why don't you put that coin into my hand, ch?'

The girl archly replied, 'Sir, I found your money under the wagon; there you will find your change'-and as she turned to go into the house, she gave the fellow a most significant smile and added: 'I wouldn't dirty my fingers for twenty of them! would you, Mr. Dandy-man?—ha, ha, ha-there's your change, sir,' and she closed the

The gentleman dismounted, picked 'up his coppers,' and was off at full speed, impatient to get out of sight and hearing. If he should ever happen in that country again, he will take care how he makes change with Yankee girls,-N.

GOLD MEDALS. We are permitted to publish the annexed letter from Captain Thompson of the packet ship Stephen Whitney, to the British Consul General at this port. Few of our noble minded ship-masters,—certainly not Captain GERMAN VEGETABLE PILLS. Thompson,—would require any such stimulous to prompt to the relief of their fellow seamen, of whatever country, when in distress; still, a token whom we shall call James, who early became addicted to lying. This wicked habit,—as is usually the case with every wicked practice,—will have it; they are intended as a thorough purgative, as some will have it; they are intended to strengthen the system that has run down, and regulate the whole human structure, and relate the structure and results a larger every sentence he uttered.— He became so inclined to this sin, that he would when one would think the truth would answer his purpose better. One day, as James came in, his mother asked him something, and in answering her he told a dreadful lie. The poor mother, almost broken hearted, went out into the garden to weep alone over her wicked, and, as she feared, her ruined son. As she was standing alone and looking on the ground, thinking what she could do to break! her child of such a dreadful habit of sin, she cast her eyes on some wormwood. She happened to think that any thing bitter was very dirgreeable and nauscous to James, and she thought in a moment, what she would do. She immediately gathered a quantity of the wormwood, and steeped it very strong. She then made a swab, and with the assistance of a domestic, took her lying foulmouthed boy and confined him fast and then swabed his mouth thoroughly, all about his tongue teeth, and throat, with this bitter wash of wormwood. The poor boy cried and his stomach heaved and he was very sick,-Medicine almost always makes the patient worse before he is better.—

James begged that his mother would not let the bitter stuff run down his throat. "Yes," said his Mary Wadsworth, Administration of the estate of John mother, "I shall let it run down your throat."— Wadsworth, late of Hiram, in said county, deceased, having presented her first account of administration of the estate of said deceased—It was going to put some down his throat, he begged so | Ordered,-
